H.Res. 411 – Finding that the President has not complied with section 2 of the Iran Nuclear Agreement Review Act of 2015 (Rep. Pompeo – Foreign Affairs) (Two hours of debate). H.Res. 411 states that the President did not fulfill all requirements of the Iran Nuclear Agreement Review Act (Corker-Cardin agreement). That legislation requires the President to transmit to Congress for review the agreement related to the nuclear program of Iran, and any additional materials related thereto, including annexes, appendices, codicils, side agreements, implementing materials, documents, and guidance. This measure expresses the view that the failure to include two agreements between Iran and the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) -- one related to the "Possible military Dimensions" of Iran's program, the other regarding the Parchin military facility -- in the materials submitted to congress constitutes a breach of the requirements set out in the Corker-Cardin agreement.

Begin Consideration of H.R. 3461 – To approve the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action, signed at Vienna on July 14, 2015, relating to the nuclear program of Iran (Rep. Boehner – Foreign Affairs) (Three hours of debate). This measure would state that the Congress favors the nuclear agreement made by the United States with the United Kingdom, France, China, Russia, and Germany regarding Iran's nuclear program which was signed on July 14, 2015.

The Daily Quote

"The Iran deal is the latest big-ticket legislation to get caught up in the internal divides of the House Republican caucus, which could postpone a planned Friday vote to disapprove of the agreement... Prompting the dissension was a floor resolution filed Tuesday by Rep. Peter Roskam (R-Ill.), who contends that President Obama did not comply with the review law passed earlier this year... 'I think it's pretty clear that a month and a half ago that we understood that Sept. 17 would be the drop-dead date and the week we're doing it is a little late to bring up the argument,' said Rep. Pete Sessions (R-Tex.), the Rules Committee chairman, referring to the deadline established in the review law. Rep. Peter King (R-N.Y.), an outspoken critic of the Iran deal, said he saw little point in delaying an Iran vote: 'It will be perceived by the American people that we abdicated,' he said. 'I think we have an obligation to be heard on this, to vote on it. ... Otherwise the average person is just going to think we're afraid.'"
